8 INFORMATION ON THE NATIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION SYSTEM

Higher Education in Art, Music and Dance

(Alta formazione artistica, musicale e coreutica - AFAM)

Higher Education in Art and Music (AFAM) is part of the Italian higher education system and includes:

- Academies of Fine Arts (Accademie di belle arti): national (state) and legally recognized institutions
- Music Conservatories (Conservatori di musica) and Institutions of Musical Higher Education considered legally equivalent to public institutions (Istituzioni musicali paragonate)

- Higher Schools of Design (Istituti superiori per le industrie artistiche)
- National Academy of Dance (Accademia nazionale di danza)
- National Academy of Drama (Accademia nazionale di arte drammatica)
- Private institutions authorized to award qualifications of higher education in Art, Music and Dance (art.11 DPR 8.7.2005, n.212).

The institutions carry out teaching, production and research in visual arts, music, dance, drama and design. Since the 1999 reform, Afam's educational offering has been structured in three cycles, in accordance with the Bologna Process objectives.

The first cycle is made up of first level diploma programmes (Corsi di diploma accademico di primo livello) that aim to provide students with adequate mastery of artistic methods and techniques as well as with specific professional and disciplinary skills. Admission requirements are an upper secondary school diploma issued after a total of 13 years of schooling and successful completion of the required state exams, or a comparable foreign diploma. Admission procedures may also require candidates to take an entrance exam to demonstrate an adequate level of knowledge, in accordance with institutional regulations. There may also be preparatory educational activities carried out in collaboration with upper secondary schools. The maximum number of places available is determined by each individual institution. Study programmes last three years. To obtain the first level diploma (Diploma accademico di primo livello), the student must have acquired 180 ECTS/CFA credits. The diploma gives holders access to competitive exams in the public sector, as well as to artistic careers and further studies in the 2nd cycle.

Second cycle is made up of second level diploma programmes (Corsi di diploma accademico di secondo livello), which offer students an advanced level of education for complete mastery of artistic methods and techniques as well as a high level of professional competency. Admission requirements are either a first level diploma, a university degree or a comparable foreign qualification. There may also be specific requirements as defined by the different institutional regulations. The number of places available is planned by each institution. Study programs last two years. A second level diploma (Diploma accademico di secondo livello) is awarded to students who have gained 120 ECTS/CFA credits and passed the final exam. Some programmes are defined "single cycle programmes" (Corsi a ciclo unico). For these programmes access is by the Italian school-leaving qualification (or comparable foreign qualification); admission is based on entrance exams. The studies last five years. A single cycle academic diploma (Diploma accademico a ciclo unico) is awarded to students who have gained 300 ECTS/CFA credits and passed the final exam. The diploma gives holders access to competitive exams in the public sector, as well as to artistic careers and further studies in the 3rd cycle.

Third cycle is made up of Research training programmes (Corsi di formazione alla ricerca). Their goal is to provide the competences to plan and carry out high-level research activities.
